The brand behind NakGas

Who it is for, what it promises, how it speaks, and why it carries this name. Written by Brand Method on Tue 6 Oct 2026 from the two calls with Navin (Mon 28 Sep and Thu 1 Oct) and the market audit. The last section is the investor sample Navin asked for: what the full brand strategy covers and what it is worth.

Brand Method recommendation, 6 Oct 2026 | To confirm with Navin | Fact: source and date given | Our read: an inference, labelled

Status. The idea, the colours, the type and the logo were decided by Brand Method on 6 Oct 2026 at Bazil's instruction. The name changed on 12 Oct 2026 from Gas Sekarang to Gaslah, and on 20 Oct 2026 from Gaslah to NakGas on Bazil's instruction; the flame turned green with its mint inner cone the same day. None is confirmed by Navin yet. This page is the light version; the full strategy (47 brand items and 16 business items) runs as a one-week sprint in Week 1 of the build. The system is on Design, the brand on one page on Final Brand.

The strategy, in order

1 The problem
2 The insight
3 Positioning
4 Audiences
5 Promise and proof
6 Personality
7 Voice
8 The name
9 Tagline and lines
10 Investor story
11 What the strategy covers

1

The problem: ordering gas is still a phone call

LPG is a controlled item in Malaysia and the price of the gas is fixed by law. What is not fixed is everything around it: finding someone, reaching them, and knowing what you paid for.

What happens today	What it costs the household	Source
You find a number: a sticker on the cylinder, a neighbour, a search online	Time, and no way to tell who is licensed	Fact Navin, call of 28 Sep 2026
You call and wait. If the dealer does not pick up, you call the next one	The cooking stops while you wait	Fact Navin, 28 Sep
The price is what you are told on the phone	No proof that RM26.60 is the gas and the rest is delivery	Fact KPDN controlled price RM26.60 for 14 kg (RM1.90 a kg), set 8 Apr 2026. A Johor Bahru dealer charges RM30.00 all in by phone (Navin, 1 Oct)
The tank runs out mid-cook. Only experience warns you	A meal, and a rushed call	Fact Navin, call of 1 Oct 2026
The apps that exist run their own riders or agents, mostly in the Klang Valley	Outside the central region the choice is mostly the phone	Fact Navin, 1 Oct; audit chapter 2. Our read on the second column

Our read. The real rival is not another app. It is the dealer's phone number on a sticker. NakGas wins the day ordering is easier than calling, at a price the customer can check.

2

The insight: the flame already tells you

Three things we heard on the calls, and what we read into them.

The blue flame

A clean LPG flame burns blue. Navin, 1 Oct: “not all of us are like our mothers who know, the colour of the gas fire.” Our mothers read the flame to know the tank is going. Most of us cannot.

NakGas does that reading for you: first a reminder from your own order rhythm, later (Phase Two) a smart regulator that knows the balance before the flame changes.

Since 20 Oct the mark is the first flame in green, emerald with a mint inner cone, and the blue burn stays as a variation set, so the idea stays in the files.

Fact: the flame, his words

Our read: the role

The phone call habit

Today the order is a phone call: find the number, ring, wait, hope the price is right (Navin, 28 Sep).

The habit to replace is the call, not the dealer. That is where the tagline comes from:

Gas sampai. Tak payah call.

Fact: how it works today

Our read: what to replace

The dealers already on the road

Licensed dealers already deliver at one price. Johor Bahru distributors refused to pay any commission, so suppliers pay nothing: it is what brings them on board (Navin, 1 Oct).

The supply is there. What is missing is the order book. NakGas is that order book, free for the dealer.

Fact: no commission

Our read: the order book

The insight in one line

People do not want a new gas company. They want their usual gas, without having to ask for it.

Orang tak perlukan syarikat gas baharu. Mereka mahukan gas yang biasa, tanpa perlu menelefon sesiapa.

Our read

3 Positioning

One line, in both languages, then the frame it is built on.

The gas dealer you already trust, now in your phone: the controlled price first, one small fee, and no more calling around.

Pengedar gas yang anda percaya, kini dalam telefon anda: harga kawalan dahulu, satu fi kecil, dan tak perlu lagi telefon sana sini.

Frame	NakGas
For	Households in Malaysia that cook with LPG, starting in Johor Bahru (launch region: our read of Navin's base, to confirm)
Who	Run out without warning and still order by phone
NakGas is	The ordering app for the licensed dealers already on the road
That	Shows the KPDN price first, adds one fee per order, and sends the order to the nearest dealer with stock, who has 45 seconds to accept
Unlike	The central-region apps that run their own riders or agents
Because	The dealers deliver already, pay no commission, and every one has a KPDN licence on file with its expiry tracked

What NakGas is not

Not a gas company. It sells no gas of its own.

Not a rider fleet. The dealer delivers, as today.

Not a discount app. “Cheapest” is never the claim: the gas price is fixed by law.

Not a cartoon. The market already has a yellow cartoon bee.

Short description, for the stores, the website and the Cradle form

NakGas lets you order LPG cooking gas from licensed local dealers in two taps. The KPDN controlled price comes first, then one small platform fee. You see the dealer’s name and truck before they arrive. Pay online or cash on delivery.

NakGas membolehkan anda memesan gas memasak LPG daripada pengedar tempatan berlesen dengan dua ketikan. Harga kawalan KPDN dipaparkan dahulu, diikuti satu fi platform yang kecil. Anda tahu nama pengedar dan nombor lori sebelum mereka tiba. Bayar dalam talian atau tunai semasa penghantaran.

4

Audiences: four people

Illustrative people, written from the two calls and the audit. They are not research participants: each is tested against real users in the beta.

Nadia, 34

Working mother, 21st floor of a condominium in Johor Bahru

Need	Gas delivered to her unit at a time she chooses, without calling from the office.
Fear	Running out with dinner on the stove. A stranger at the door. A surprise charge for the lift.
What wins her	A scheduled delivery, the dealer’s name and truck plate before arrival, every fee shown before she pays, a photo when it is delivered.
In the app	High-rise address (floor, lift, unit), scheduled order, status steps, photo proof.

Pakcik Hamid, 67

Retired, a terrace house in Skudai

Need	The dealer and the price he knows, in Malay, paying cash.
Fear	Apps that take money he cannot see. Being pushed to pay online. Small text.
What wins him	Bahasa Malaysia from the first screen, cash on delivery, two taps, and a reminder so he never has to remember. His daughter can set it up for him.
In the app	Language picker, cash on delivery, one-tap reorder, reorder reminder.

Arun and Mei Ling, both 27

A young couple renting an apartment in Iskandar Puteri

Need	A licensed dealer near a home they just moved into, and a price they can check.
Fear	Being overcharged because they are new. An unsafe cylinder or a leaking hose.
What wins them	The KPDN price on the first line, licensed dealers only, safety tips in Help, e-wallet payment, a referral reward.
In the app	KPDN-verified dealer, itemised bill, online payment, help and safety tips, referral link.

Mr Lim, 52

A licensed dealer with a shop and two lorries in Johor Bahru, delivering by phone today

Need	More orders on the routes his lorries already drive, without paying a cut.
Fear	A platform that takes commission. Drivers who will not use an app. Disputes over a delivery. Late payment.
What wins him	No commission (Navin, 1 Oct), orders only inside his radius, 45 seconds to accept or pass, photo proof that settles disputes, a settlement history he can read.
In the app	Online switch, the 45 second countdown, stock and radius, photo proof, wallet and settlements. Phase Two: a WhatsApp accept flow for drivers who will not use an app.

5

Promise and proof

Every promise has a proof inside the product. If a promise has no screen behind it, it is not made.

Promise	Proof in the product	Where it shows
The fair price, shown first	The KPDN controlled price is the first line of every bill, as the law requires. One platform fee per order, not per cylinder	Checkout, receipt
Your usual dealer, not a stranger	Licensed local dealers deliver, the ones already on the road. KPDN licence checked and its expiry tracked	Dealer card, supplier onboarding, admin compliance
No more calling around	Order in two taps. The nearest available dealer has 45 seconds to accept, then the next	Home, order flow, the supplier countdown
Never caught mid-cook	A reorder reminder from your own order rhythm now. The smart regulator in Phase Two	Push reminder; Phase Two

The bill, worked: one 14 kg cylinder, Johor Bahru

Line	Amount	Note
LPG 14 kg, KPDN controlled price	RM26.60	Fixed by law
Delivery fee	RM3.40	What a Johor Bahru dealer adds by phone today. Set per dealer and area; high-rise tiers to confirm
Platform and processing fee, per order	RM3.50	Open Navin’s leaning. RM3.00 is the other option. Waits on Brand Method’s price audit
Total	RM33.50	Two cylinders in one order: RM63.50

6

Personality

Five traits. Each has a line it must not cross. Calm, clear, a bit of local warmth: not cartoonish, not a corporate oil major.

Trait	We are	We are not	Sounds like
Neighbourly	Warm, local, on first-name terms with the dealer	Over-familiar or cute	Pesanan diterima. Abang gas sedang dalam perjalanan.
Honest	Price first, every fee named	Salesy: no “best”, no “cheapest”	Harga kawalan KPDN: RM26.60.
Dependable	Always says what happens next	Vague: no “soon”, no “shortly”	Jika pengedar ini tidak menerima dalam 45 saat, pesanan dihantar kepada pengedar terdekat seterusnya.
Quick	Two taps, short sentences	Rushed or pushy	Pesan semula dengan satu ketikan.
Malaysian	Bahasa Malaysia first, the words people use: tong gas, abang gas, tukar tong	Mixed languages inside one sentence, or a tourist’s idea of Malaysia	Tukar tong kosong, atau beli tong baharu?

7

Voice: ten moments in both languages

Bahasa Malaysia first in the Malay interface, plain English in the English one. One language per sentence; the tagline is the only exception. Short sentences, exact numbers. The names and the truck plate below are illustrative.

Moment	Bahasa Malaysia	English
First open	Pilih bahasa anda. Anda boleh menukarnya bila-bila masa di Tetapan.	Choose your language. You can change it any time in Settings.
Order type	Tukar tong kosong, atau beli tong baharu?	Swap an empty cylinder, or buy a new one?
Address	Rumah bertanah atau kediaman bertingkat? Untuk kediaman bertingkat, nyatakan tingkat, lif dan nombor unit.	Landed house or high-rise? For a high-rise, add the floor, the lift and the unit number.
Checkout	Harga kawalan KPDN dahulu. Kemudian caj penghantaran dan satu fi platform & pemprosesan bagi setiap pesanan.	The KPDN controlled price comes first. Then the delivery fee and one platform & processing fee per order.
Finding a dealer	Kami sedang menghantar pesanan anda kepada pengedar berlesen yang terdekat.	We are sending your order to the nearest licensed dealer.
Dealer on the way	Pesanan diterima. Abang gas sedang dalam perjalanan. Rahman, lori JTX 4821.	Order received. Your dealer is on the way. Rahman, truck JTX 4821.
Delivered	Gas sudah sampai. Lihat foto bukti penghantaran.	Your gas has arrived. See the delivery photo.

Moment	Bahasa Malaysia	English
Reorder reminder	Tong anda biasanya habis sekitar hari ke-28. Pesan sekarang?	Your cylinder usually runs out around day 28. Order now?
No dealer accepts	Pengedar terdekat sedang sibuk. Pasukan kami sedang mencarikan pengedar untuk anda.	The nearest dealers are busy. Our team is finding one for you.
Dealer app, new order	Pesanan baharu, 1.8 km dari anda. Terima dalam 45 saat.	New order, 1.8 km away. Accept within 45 seconds.

Do

- Name the law’s price as the law’s: “harga kawalan KPDN”.
- Say what happens next, with the number: 45 saat, RM3.50, hari ke-28.
- Use the words people use: tong gas, abang gas, tukar tong, isi semula.
- Keep one language per sentence. The tagline is the one exception.
- Write “NakGas” as one word with a capital N and a capital G in copy.

Don’t

- Claim “termurah” or “terbaik” (cheapest, best). The gas price is fixed by law.
- Use emojis, exclamation marks or hype in the interface.
- Mix languages inside a sentence, as in “Order you dah confirm”.
- Show the dealer’s phone number. The app replaces the call.
- Blame the dealer when an order is late. Say what we are doing about it.

Every Malay string is checked by a native speaker on Navin’s side before the build freezes the copy.

8

The name: NakGas

"Nak gas" is what a household says the moment the cylinder runs out: I want gas, we need gas. The name is the moment of need, and the app is the answer. Six letters, two syllables. Set on Tue 20 Oct 2026.

NakGas. I want gas.

It is the moment of need

Every document Navin has written says GasNow. Gas Sekarang (6 Oct) and Gaslah (12 Oct) said when. NakGas says what the household actually says when the cylinder dies: nak gas. The need is the name; the app is the answer.

Our read

It is short

Six letters, two syllables, one word, easy to say and to remember. On 20 Oct Bazil wrote "change the name all to NakGas".

Fact: his instruction, 20 Oct

It is very Malaysian

"Nak" is the most everyday Malay word for want; nobody has to be taught it. On 1 Oct Navin asked for "something very Malaysian".

Fact: his ask, 1 Oct

Our read: the meaning

GasNow is weak to own

gasnow.com has been registered by someone else since 2010, and "Gas Now" is already an app name abroad (audit, finding F15).

Fact: audit, 29 Sep 2026

How it is written

Where	Form
In copy, both languages, and the home screen label: one word, capital N and capital G	NakGas
In the wordmark (drawn, never retyped): “nak” in ink, “gas” in flame green	nakgas
Handles and file names	nakgas

The shortlist

Name	What it says	What we found, and when	Verdict
NakGas	“I want gas”, the moment of need, in six letters	20 Oct: nakgas.my and nakgas.com.my available (MYNIC RDAP); nakgas.com not registered (Verisign RDAP, whois no match); App Store Malaysia: “nakgas” returns no app, “nak gas” one unrelated game; Google Play Malaysia: no app named NakGas	Chosen 20 Oct, to confirm
Gaslah	“Go on, now”, in six letters	12 Oct: no app called Gaslah on the Malaysian App Store; no Gaslah gas delivery on the web; gaslah.my and gaslah.com.my available (MYNIC); gaslah.com held by an unrelated Arabic site, registered 1 Jul 2026	Chosen 12 Oct, replaced 20 Oct
GasNow	The working name. Clear in English	6 Oct: gasnow.com registered by someone else since 2010; “Gas Now” is an app name in two stores abroad (F15)	Kept as the meaning
Gas Sekarang	Malay for Gas Now; “gas” also reads as go	6 Oct: gassekarang.com unregistered (Verisign); gassekarang.my and .com.my available (MYNIC); no app of that name in the App Store or Google Play	Chosen 6 Oct, replaced 12 Oct
MyGas	“My gas”	12 Oct: Click MyGas and its rider app are a direct rival on the App Store; MyGaz is an LPG brand; mygas.com, .my and .com.my registered	Rejected 12 Oct
MaiGas	Sounds like “my gas”	12 Oct: sounds the same as MyGas and MyGaz; maigas.com.my is Maigas Engineering, a Malaysian engineering company	Rejected 12 Oct
Gasku	“My gas”, in Malay	12 Oct: gasku.com registered 10 Jun 2026	Rejected 12 Oct
Jom Gas	“Jom”, let’s go	12 Oct: free, but “jom” is crowded	Rejected 12 Oct
GasKita	“Our gas”	6 Oct: gaskita.com is a slot gambling site	Rejected 6 Oct

Name	What it says	What we found, and when	Verdict
AbangGas	The man who brings the gas	6 Oct: abanggas.com is an Indonesian gas and water delivery platform working with local agents: the same concept	Rejected 6 Oct
TongGas	“Gas cylinder”	6 Oct: the word for the product, not a brand anyone can own	Rejected 6 Oct

Checks, done and open

Check	State	Note
nakgas.my and nakgas.com.my	Done 20 Oct: available	MYNIC RDAP reports both available. Register both on the same day, before the name is announced anywhere
nakgas.com	Done 20 Oct: free	Not registered: Verisign RDAP returns 404 and whois shows no match. Register it with the .my pair
App Store	Done 20 Oct: no clash	iTunes search API, Malaysia: “nakgas” returns no app; “nak gas” returns one unrelated game
Google Play	Done 20 Oct: no clash	No app named NakGas in the Malaysian search results
MyIPO trademark search	Open	Not run. Classes for the app and for delivery services to confirm
Social handles	Open	nakgas on Instagram, Facebook and TikTok: reserve all on the same day as the domains
Navin’s yes	Open	The name is Brand Method’s choice on Bazil’s instruction. Navin has not confirmed it

How the name got here. On 1 Oct Navin asked for “something very Malaysian” and offered a name the call notes wrote as “Gas Karang”. In spoken Malay “karang” can mean “later”, the opposite of the promise, so we read it as Gas Sekarang, the Malay for GasNow, and named the brand that on 6 Oct 2026. On 12 Oct 2026 Bazil asked for a name “shorter more memorable, u can choose”, and Brand Method chose Gaslah. On 20 Oct 2026 Bazil wrote “change the name all to NakGas” and asked for a green flame with the blue kept, so the flame is green now with the blue variation of a clean burn as its core. The flame idea is unchanged. Still to confirm with Navin.

9

Tagline and lines

The tagline is the one place Bahasa Malaysia and English meet on purpose: “call” is the word Malaysians use for phoning.

Gas sampai. Tak payah call.

Your gas, without the phone call.

Lines for the app, the website and the dealers

Bahasa Malaysia	English	Where it is used
Harga KPDN di baris pertama.	The KPDN price on the first line.	Checkout, website
Abang gas yang sama, tanpa perlu menelefon.	The same dealer, without the phone call.	Website, store listing
Kami ingatkan sebelum tong anda habis.	We remind you before your cylinder runs out.	Reminder settings, website
Dua ketikan. Gas sampai.	Two taps. Gas arrives.	Store screenshots
Pesanan datang kepada anda. Tiada komisen.	Orders come to you. No commission.	Dealer onboarding, the supplier page, the shop sticker
Tahu baki gas sebelum api berubah.	Know what is left before the flame changes.	Phase Two, the investor deck

Candidate lines for Navin. The tagline is our recommendation; the rest can change without touching the identity.

10

The story for investors, in five beats

The order to tell it in, for the RM60,000 round and for Cradle. No market size is claimed here: none has been sourced yet.

1

Every kitchen runs on a cylinder

LPG is a controlled item: KPDN fixes RM26.60 for a 14 kg household cylinder. Our mothers read the flame to know when it is running out.

Fact: KPDN, 8 Apr 2026; Navin, 1 Oct

2

Ordering it is still a phone call

Find a number, call, wait, hope the price is right. The apps that exist run their own riders, mostly in the Klang Valley.

Fact: calls of 28 Sep and 1 Oct; audit

3

The dealers are already on the road

Licensed dealers deliver every day at one price. NakGas gives them the orders and takes no commission, which is why they join.

Our read: why they join

4

Two taps and a fair bill

The KPDN price first, one small fee per order, the nearest dealer has 45 seconds to accept, a photo when it is delivered. The fee per order is the revenue.

Fee RM3.00 or RM3.50: open

5

Johor first, then the flame itself

Launch where Navin's distributors are; the order engine works wherever a licensed dealer does. Phase Two: a smart regulator that knows the balance before the flame changes.

Our read; Phase Two not priced

11

What the brand strategy covers, and what it is worth

The sample Navin asked for on 1 Oct, to show investors, and the one Bazil promised to send. Bazil on the same call: brand strategy “establishes market constraints and messaging consistency”. It comes free in Navin’s package.

BRAND ITEMS	BUSINESS ITEMS	VALUE	FOR VIN INDUSTRIES
47 in 11 blocks The full brand strategy, block by block, below.	16 The business strategy set: model, ladders, flywheel, positioning, KPIs.	~~RM20,000~~ RM10,000 at the founding rate this quarter, 50% off the list.	RM0 complimentary Inside the RM48,000 package. A one-week sprint in Week 1; the list timeline is about five weeks.

Items and prices: Brand Method price list, Brand Strategy · Full, read 6 Oct 2026. Package: Bazil, 29 Sep 2026.

The brand strategy: 11 blocks, 47 items

Block	Items	What it settles for NakGas	A first sample
0 Brand Introduction Introduction to branding, the branding process, niche down, brand communication	4	Who NakGas is for first, narrow enough to win: LPG households on the routes of licensed dealers, Johor Bahru first	Audiences
1 Brand Check + Basics Brand check guide, marketing channels guide, niche build	3	The name checked before launch, and which channels open first and when (Navin is wary of opening pages before the back end is ready)	The name, checks
2 Brand Position Brand position, the brand liner	2	Where NakGas sits against the rider apps and the phone, and the one line that says it	Positioning
3 Brand Voice + Character Brand voice, brand character, brand personality	3	How every screen, push message and receipt speaks, in Bahasa Malaysia and English	Personality, Voice
4 Brand Pitch The brand pitch framework, the brand pitch itself	2	The pitch for investors, for Cradle and for dealers, from one framework	Investor story
5 The Brand Story Journey diagram, audience hero, problem, guide, plan, call to action, success achievement, failure avoidance, image and transformation, image statement, story summary	11	The customer's journey from "the tank is low" to "the gas has arrived", used for onboarding, the website and the launch video	The problem, The insight

Block	Items	What it settles for NakGas	A first sample
6 Facts, Survey + Tests Fairy tale test, combination strategy, hook, interesting fact, case study, brand purpose and goal, paradigm shift, lead generator	8	The hooks and facts for launch content, and the lead generator for the first 1,000 users (mechanic still open)	In the sprint
7 Brand Description The brand described in full	1	One description reused everywhere: the stores, the website, the Cradle form	Short description
8 Verbal + Visual Identity The verbal system, the visual direction	2	The words and the look the identity is built on: the green flame, one accent, two typefaces	Design
9 Brand Essence Our story, vision and mission, tagline and slogan, culture and values, brand USP	5	The tagline, the reason to choose NakGas, and the vision Navin presents	Tagline and lines
10 Success vs Failure Success reason, success achievement, failure reason, failure avoidance, technical on success, technical on failure	6	What the customer wins (never caught mid-cook) and avoids (the rushed call), written into reminders and copy	Promise and proof
Total	47

The business strategy set: 16 items

Item	What it settles for NakGas	Item	What it settles for NakGas
Core business model	One fee per order, suppliers pay no commission; RM3.00 or RM3.50 still open	Growth model and revenue pathways	The fee now; Phase Two hardware, smart regulators and commercial C50 later
Value ladder	Free download, first order, reminder and reorder, rewards and referral, then the smart regulator	Multi-persona messaging	One message each for households, dealers and investors, from one position
Branding ladder	The steps from “I tried it” to “I told my neighbour”	KPI dashboard	Orders a day, acceptance inside 45 seconds, reorder rate, fee kept per order, dealers online
Product and service flywheel	More dealers, faster acceptance, more orders, more dealers	Products and services	Customer app, supplier app, admin portal, website; the regulator in Phase Two
Positioning matrix and map	Where NakGas sits on price shown and on coverage, against every rival	Target profile	The first households and the first dealers, by area
Market landscape	The rivals and the LPG brands in each region (audit chapters 2 and 3)	Quality vs cost	The fee against what the customer gets, under Navin’s ceiling: never near RM39 to RM40 a cylinder
Hedgehog concept	The one thing to be best at: the order book for licensed dealers	Offer architecture	The launch offer, rewards and referral, one promo per order

Item	What it settles for NakGas	Item	What it settles for NakGas
Ecosystem summary	Households, dealers, drivers, KPDN, the LPG brands, the gateway, Cradle	Value proposition	For households: the fair price and no calling. For dealers: orders and no commission

Our read The second and fourth columns are what each item will settle once the sprint runs. They are not yet decided.

What it does for the build

- Decisions are made once: who first, the fee, the words. They are not reopened in every screen review.
- The UI/UX and the website are built on agreed messages, so fewer screens are redrawn.
- The investor and Cradle story comes out of it ready to present.

Bazil, 1 Oct: it saves UI/UX and build cost Our read: how

What lands in Navin's hands

- The Brand Strategy Book: all 11 blocks, 47 items.
- The Brand Strategy Cards: the working deck for his team.
- The messaging framework: what to say, to whom, in what order.
- The business strategy set: 16 items.
- The workshop recording, so anyone who joins later gets the same briefing.

Brand Method · VIN Industries · NakGas · Brand Creation · written Tue 6 Oct 2026, the name changed to Gaslah Mon 12 Oct 2026 and to NakGas Tue 20 Oct 2026. Sources: the calls of Mon 28 Sep and Thu 1 Oct 2026, the market audit of Tue 29 Sep, the Brand Method price list read 6 Oct, Bazil's instructions of 12 and 20 Oct and the name checks of 20 Oct. Internal, for Navin only. Confidential under the NDA; not for any portfolio.